LIFE I BRING

I am the door; he who enters through Me, will be saved. - Jesus Christ

(John 10:9)

April 20th, 1999

Two young men walked onto their High School campus and began to shoot their fellow classmates. Dave Sanders, a teacher at Columbine High School, Littleton, Colorado, taught in classROOM 3. Hearing the gunshots, Dave quickly ran to the cafeteria where he began to escort students to safety. In the process of doing this he was shot and killed. Dave Sanders gave up his life for his students. His sacrifice reminds us of a sacrifice that was made for each of us around 2000 years ago. God says in His Bible that He gave the life of His only son, Jesus Christ to be crucified to death on a cross. Jesus' sacrifice was the payment for the sins of all humanity. If you turn from your life of sin and turn to place your faith and trust in the sacrifice of Jesus, you will receive God's forgiveness and be granted life eternal.

Lyrics: Jojynn Miller
Music: Dave Dick
Once upon a sea there in a place not far away a million tiny pebbles lived the beach with shades of gray each little stone created in the hands of Christ above then placed along the seaside by the Master and His love I lay here in the golden sand as people pass me by insignificant to many I was merely tossed aside perception says I'm trivial a worthless little thing and yet I've been created by a great and Mighty King [To the God of all creation to the Author of Life to the hope of all humanity the cure for sin and strife to the Master to the Artist to the reigning King of Kings I'll lift to You my praises till the people start to sing] embedded here not moving underneath the sky I was just another pebble unseen by human eye no people dare to raise their souls refused to honor and their hearts refrained from praise the silence stung me terribly and worse it grieved my God unfaithful souls now wandering where loyal ones once trod though the thought of vocal pebbles would cause nothing but a doubt I defied the laws of nature raised my voice and cried out ^ My prayers is now that when you see a stone along the way you'd lift your voice with gladness and would silence me each day
